WELCOME TO CALL 2006

The 44th Annual Conference of the Canadian Association of Law Libraries

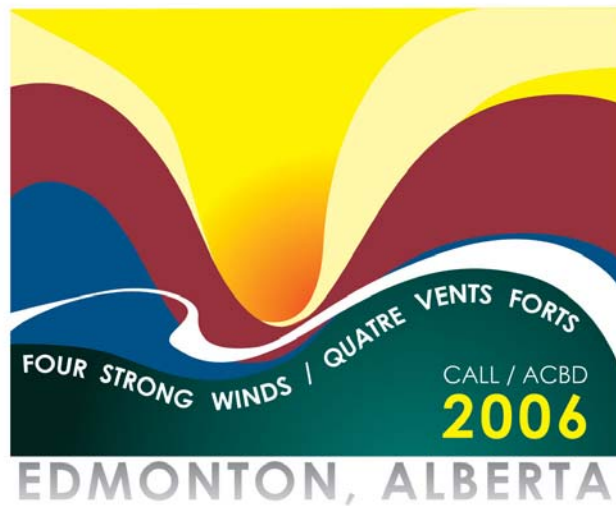

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Message from His Worship
Mayor Stephen Mandel

On behalf of City Council and the people of Edmonton, Alberta's Capital City, it is my great pleasure to extend a warm welcome to all delegates attending the annual conference of the Canadian Association of Law Libraries/l'Association canadienne des bibliothèques de droit.

This conference will provide you with valuable opportunities to exchange ideas and information, and to network with your peers. The City of Edmonton is proud to be the host city for this important gathering.

You have a full agenda ahead of you, but I do hope you will have an opportunity to visit some of Edmonton's highlights. From a stroll through the magnificent North Saskatchewan River Valley to world-class shopping and fine dining, there is a lot for you to see and do.

Best wishes for a successful meeting, and a pleasant stay in Edmonton!

Stephen Mandel Mayor

WELCOME FROM THE CALL/ACBD PRESIDENT

Welcome to Edmonton, the capital of booming, energy-rich Alberta, "Gateway to the North", and site of the 2006 Annual Meeting of the Canadian Association of Law Libraries.

We have a wonderful conference lined up for your edification and enjoyment. Programs range from the practical – getting set for emerging technologies – to the thought provoking – redressing the wrongs associated with the residential school system. Over the three and a half days of the conference we'll explore what's new in software from Google Scholar to Greasemonkey, see how libraries deliver print and electronic resources while complying with copyright restrictions, and learn best practices and useful techniques for moving into a new library space.

Of particular interest to academic librarians will be the panel discussion on coping with cross-disciplinary courses which bring non-law students into the law library. Courthouse librarians will be anxious to hear about LibraryCo's foray in to the realm of virtual reference service. Private firm librarians won't want to miss the presentation, "Games Students Play", incorporating humour and fun into legal research instruction as a strategy to reach Generation Y. The irrepressible Denis LeMay will explain some of the mysteries of Public International Law, offering tips through his "golden thread" technique. Back by popular demand is the fast paced and informative "What's New and Cool [in my library]".

At the annual meeting portion get up to date on all the activities Special Interest Groups and Committee have been working on during the year. Be on hand for the exciting awards presentation. Visit the exhibits to see what's new in legal publishing. And most of all, renew old acquaintanceships, meet new colleagues and have fun.

On behalf of the Executive Board, here's wishing you a productive and rewarding conference experience.

John Sadler
President of CALL/ACBD 2006-2007

WELCOME FROM THE CHAIR OF THE CPC

It is with great pleasure that the Conference Planning Committee 2006 welcomes all delegates, exhibitors and presenters to CALL/ACBD 2006. In keeping with our theme "Four Strong Winds – Leadership – Resources – Innovation – Expectations" we are sure you will have a great conference with us in Edmonton, whatever wind has brought you here.

Edmonton has it roots in the fur trade with the establishment of a Hudson's Bay Company Trading Post in 1795. You can experience this era at historic Fort Edmonton, located in Fort Edmonton Park, also the location of Blatchford Hangar, the venue for our "wild and woolly" western Closing Banquet hosted by LexisNexis. You will have an opportunity to visit one of our cultural landmarks, the Francis Winspear Centre for Music, the venue for our Opening Reception hosted by CCH Canadian and featuring a performance on the fabulous Davis Concert Organ. You shoppers will know that Edmonton is home to West Edmonton Mall, the world's largest entertainment and shopping centre. This is the venue for our Monday Fun Night at Red's, a casual evening of food, drink and games hosted by Thomson Carswell.

Our conference program will cover each of the Four Winds: ranging from Leadership with The Honourable Tommy Banks, Senator, musician and one of Alberta's and Edmonton's leading citizens; to Resources with the 8Rs Canadian Library Human Resource Study, a national research project examining important facets of library human resources; to Innovation with the session on The Potential of XML for Legal Information, exploring how XML and database technologies can be used to enrich and improve access to legal information; to Expectations with the session by Dr. Martin Felsky, where you will find out if your organization is prepared for electronic discovery.

I invite you to relax and enjoy your stay in Edmonton by taking a leisurely walk (or run) in our scenic River Valley, seeing an Oiler's playoff game (I hope) in this, the "City of Champions," or by going out to any of our excellent restaurants, bars and pubs (see our conference book mark in your delegate bag).

I also want to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to the talented and dedicated people on our Committee who have given so generously of their time and talents to make this conference happen. Adriana, Ana, Andrea, Bernice, Cathy, Eve, Josette, Judy-Lynn, Lynne, Michael, Shaunna and Sylvia, you are the best! As well, my thanks go to Anne Matthewman, Elizabeth Hooper and Martine Lamoureux for their guidance and support.

Finally, none of this would have been possible without the generous contributions of our sponsors and exhibitors. Many thanks to you all!

We hope that you enjoy CALL/ACBD 2006 as much as we have enjoyed planning it.

Rick Leech
Chair, Conference Planning Committee, CALL/ACBD 2006

Knowledge Management – Getting Off on the Right Foot

Speakers: Joshua Fireman, Vice-President Market Development and General Counsel, ii3.com
Connie Crosby, Library Manager, WeirFoulds LLP
Susan Duke, Knowledge Coordinator, Stewart McKelvey
Wendy Reynolds, Information Manager, Ontario Securities Commission
Mary Saulig, Director, Library Services, Goodmans LLP

This workshop will provide a practical introduction to knowledge management. Through a combination of interactive discussion and participatory case studies, our experienced and dynamic speakers will address:
- What KM is and why you should want to get involved
- How to get management and users onboard
- Where exactly to start and the tools that you can use to do so
- How to best position the library in a KM project
- How to effectively implement KM in your environment
- Tools and techniques to evaluate and reassess the effectiveness of your project.

Lunch and breaks provided.

Hosts: Knowledge Management SIG, Justice/AG SIG, Education Committee

3:30-5:30 CALL Executive Board Meeting (closed) W-Consulate

12:30-4:30 Heart of Edmonton - Bus/Walk Tour Meet in Westin Lobby at 12:15
A rich cultural mosaic spans both sides of the North Saskatchewan River. Discover Edmonton's history and diversity by bus as you visit a variety of cultural and heritage sites including the prominent neighbourhoods of Glenora and Oliver. Explore Downtown's multi-ethnic neighbourhoods (eg. Chinatown and Little Italy), see academic landmarks at the University of Alberta campus, and get off the bus at the Legislature grounds.

After a brief stop at the grounds, enjoy a leisurely 2 hour walking tour through parts of the river valley, while listening to archaeological interpretations. Travel to sites along the river valley that retrace the steps of the aboriginal people of Alberta. Stroll along the riverbank to see where archaeological discoveries support evidence of burial grounds, campsites, Hudson's Bay Forts, coal mines and brickyards.

Continue the historical walk by exploring Old Strathcona, the city's largest heritage area. Listen to stories, past and present, of the development, characters, and events from this treasured community, while discovering charming shops and historic buildings.
For the final hour, view other points of interest by bus, such as the Muttart Conservatory, prior to returning to the Westin.

3:00-5:00 Canadian Abridgment Editorial Advisory Board (closed) S-Salon 17/18

7:00-10:00 Ghosts and Graveyards! Meet in Westin Lobby at 6:45
Depart from the Westin on one of Nite Tours' Fun Buses, and travel to The Guilty Martini lounge in Old Strathcona. Enjoy a multi-media presentation on ghosts and ghost hunting while upping your courage level with refreshments of your choice, followed by a visit to this establishment's Haunted Stairwell!

Back on the bus, your experienced tour guide will entertain you with a blend of ghost stories and well-researched Edmonton historical facts. The evening's route includes Downtown – Warehouse District, Jasper Ave. (CKUA Building, General Hospital, Edmonton Journal Building, and many others in the downtown core), McKay School, Arlington Apartments, Edmonton Cemetery and Mausoleum.

The tour ends back at the Westin, whereupon you may retreat in safety for the evening, or continue imbibing drinks right across the street at First City, a fabulous New York style lounge, or alternatively at the Sherlock Holmes pub, just around the corner.

Session 2:   Copyright and Document Delivery   S-Salon 12

Speakers: Carol Smale, Library and Archives Canada, Ottawa
Paul Whitney, City Librarian, Vancouver Public Library, Vancouver

Hosts: Access Services and Resource Sharing SIG; Education Committee

Ms. Smale and Mr. Whitney will present an overview of the copyright laws and their application to document delivery of both print and electronic sources. We can learn how the Library and Archives of Canada manages to comply with copyright restrictions while providing unrestricted access to its collection. What are the processes and procedures employed to ensure compliance without restricting access?

Moderator;   Rashid Humayun

Session 3:   Public International Law   S-Salon 5/6

Speaker: Denis LeMay, Université Laval, Bibliothèque de droit, Québec

International Law (IL) is the ultimate horizon of our times; there is hardly a topic, a reference question or a course that doesn't take it into account, even slightly, even tangentially. Law librarians facing the odd questions of the "Monterry Consensus", the "Draft Protocol on endangered species" or "Where is the last report of the UN on the law of the sea" or, even worse, being shown that frightening, undecipherable footnote of the type E/CN.4/Sub.2/2005/38/Add.1 ("I didn't find that in the catalog") ...need no longer hide under their desks. They should and are able to answer these quite easily.

Don't be afraid anymore! This workshop-like presentation will show the links between IL, reference questions and UN Docs. You will be able to assess the exact state of development of any question by following the «golden thread» (a secret to be revealed at the session). No prior knowledge of either IL or of the United Nations documentation is required to attend.

8:30-10:00	PLENARY #2: 8Rs Canadian Library Human Resource Study.	S-Salon 12

Speaker: Allison Sivak, Research Associate, University of Alberta

The 8Rs Canadian Library Human Resource Study is a national research project that is examining important facets of library human resources from both organizational and individual perspectives over a period of two years.

The study draws its name from the eight core issues that the literature suggests are integral to human resource management in libraries: recruitment, retention, remuneration, reaccreditation, repatriation, rejuvenation, retirement and restructuring. The research team is currently gathering data through a series of surveys and focus groups from a number of different sources: library administrations, individual librarians and library technicians at all stages of their careers, library educators and MLIS students. This will allow the study to present a comprehensive view of the current and predicted needs of library institutions and library workers.

Marcus Roesner, Project Manager, Virtual Reference Service, LibraryCo, Toronto

Chat reference is the newest and fastest growing category of service in libraries, ever! What is it? How does it work? How long does it take to set up? What is involved? Can I do this in my library?

This session will discuss the new virtual reference service provided to Ontario lawyers through the LibraryCo libraries. We will take you on an action packed journey, from the birth of the idea through the proposal to implementation, past the unveiling to the first few months of this one-of-a-kind service.

Session 9:   CALL/ACBD Grant Recipients   S-Salon 3
                Project title: Thesaurus of Canadian Civil Justice System Terminology: Sources, Data Collection, and Technology

Speaker: Michael Lines, Law Librarian & Information Coordinator, Canadian Forum on Civil Justice, University of Alberta, Edmonton - 2005 Grant Recipient

Host: Committee to Promote Research

Civil justice system terminology differs across jurisdictions in Canada, making access to information about civil justice, and effective research on and reform of Canadian civil justice systems problematic. Building on research that demonstrates the significant size of the literature on this topic and the underdeveloped subject and classification vocabulary, this project identifies and describes three of the essential components required to build the Thesaurus. The presentation will include a preliminary draft of the Thesaurus.

3:30-5:00   3 CONCURRENT SESSIONS (#10-12)

Session 10:   The Impact of Electronic Discovery on the Management of Business Information in Canada   S-Salon 10/11

Speaker: Dr. Martin Felsky, Ph.D., J.D., CEO, Commonwealth Legal Inc.

Host: Electronic Information SIG

It has been said that American corporations will spend more money on electronic discovery than on class action litigation. If that is true, the impact could be huge for Canadians as well. Is your organization prepared for electronic discovery or will you be contributing to one of our horror stories? Dr. Felsky will provide an overview of the law and practice of electronic discovery in Canada, with special emphasis on the practical steps required of businesses to be litigation ready. If you are responsible for records management in government or private sector, you will benefit from this session.

Session 11: Games Students Play S-Salon 3

Speakers: Laurel Murdoch, Heenan Blaikie LLP
Marla Sterritt , Burnet, Duckworth & Palmer LLP
Phyllis Thornton, McCarthy Tétrault LLP

Host: Private Law Libraries SIG

There has been a good deal of controversy around the idea of using games, humour and fun as part of training students to do legal research. The controversy itself may be a symptom of the generation gap we are trying to bridge. Three experienced law firm librarians will tell us of their experiences with student training, including the "games" they use to reach Generation Y.

Moderator: Jane Parkinson

Session 12: Cool Things (6 presentations) S-Salon 12

Moderator: Judy-Lynn Downey

1) Legal Research Course Via Email
Speaker: Robert Leigh, Manager of Public Services, Alberta Law Society Libraries, Edmonton
How do you train a large group of staff in 9 libraries across a province? Easy -- by email! Robert Leigh will discuss the process involved in creating and implementing his legal research course that is delivered via email to Alberta Law Society Libraries staff across Alberta.

2) Setting Up a 'Writing for Publication' Group
Speaker: Nancy McCormack, Reference Librarian, Queen's University, Kingston
Nancy McCormack will speak about her experience in setting up a "writing for publication" group, the result of which was the establishing of COLAJ: Canadian Online Library and Archives Journal. She will discuss the trials and tribulations of working on a new online journal, the state of the journal today, and the editors' hopes for its future. She will discuss how you can get something published in this new publication.

3) Control - Alt - Delete: Alternative Librarianship in Public Legal Education
Speaker: Kirsten Wurmann, Librarian, Legal Studies Program, University of Alberta, Edmonton
Being a public legal education web librarian is a "cool thing", so says Kirsten Wurmann. She is fully involved in the process from the development of proposals, to the design and creation of their web resources, and from the management of their virtual collections, to the management and use of content management systems! The Legal Studies Program believes access to information about the laws and legal processes should be the right of everyone in a free society – a good fit for a librarian!

4) Using A Reference Database for Statistics and Library KM
Speaker: Colleen Mahoney, Legislation/Reference Librarian, Osler, Hoskin and Harcourt, Toronto
Colleen will talk about the different ways her library uses their Reference Database. The Library Manager uses it to generate statistics so she can track trends, discover who is using the library's reference services and what resources are being used to generate answers, etc. The Reference Librarians use the database as a time saving devise. Complex or difficult reference questions will often come up time and again. The database can be searched to see how they were answered in the past, what resources were used, contact numbers etc.

5) Thesaurus of Canadian Civil Justice System Terminology
Speaker: Michael Lines, Law Librarian and Information Coordinator, Canadian Forum on Civil Justice, Edmonton
Civil justice system terminology differs across jurisdictions in Canada, making access to information about civil justice, and effective research on and reform of Canadian civil justice systems problematic. The Thesaurus will be a solution to this problem.

6) SharePoint Team Services

Speaker: Eve Poirier, Law Librarian, Department of Justice Canada, Prairie Region, Alberta

SharePoint Team Services is a single out-of-the-box Microsoft application. SharePoint provides a web-based environment for easy and efficient communication between/among individuals, groups and teams regardless of physical location. SharePoint enables online interactive document sharing and has an array of collaborative features. Library staff are learning to engage SharePoint and benefit from reduced email, document sharing, work-product collaboration and streamlined communication between colleagues located across the country and across the street. Eve Poirier will demonstrate how SharePoint works and how Library Services staff are using SharePoint to enhance collaboration and information sharing across the Region and across the Country.
